

PROJECT LEARNING TREE ENVIRONMENTAL EXPERIENCES FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD

Calling all Early Childhood Educators that are interested in engaging young children in outdoor play and exploration. This workshop is specifically designed for formal and informal educators who work with children ages three to six. This workshop will introduce activities that encourage nature exploration using our five senses, meeting neighborhood trees, and experiencing trees through the seasons. Every participating educator will receive Project Learning Tree's Environmental Experiences for Early Childhood Guide and an accompanying music CD which features songs from children's musician Billy B. Brennan, encouraging children to sing, dance, and move.

Details:

- March 7, 2019; 6:30-8:30pm at the Robert B. Daugherty Education Center at Omaha's Henry Doorly Zoo & Aquarium
- Each participant will be given a certificate for 2 in-service hours for childcare licensing.
