

Assistant Professor of Clinical or Applied Psychology

The Psychology program, housed in a Division of Social Sciences at Lyon College, Batesville, AR, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Clinical and/or Applied Psychology. Experience at a small, residential liberal arts college as a student or as a faculty member is desirable. Absent that experience, an understanding of the difference between a small college and a university, and the desire to be on the faculty of a small college are important. Teaching experience is expected, scholarly potential is necessary, and desire to do collaborative research with undergraduates is important. In addition, preference will be given to candidates who have expertise in guiding and advising students seeking careers in counseling and related fields. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand by the start of Fall 2018. The range of courses that this person may teach include Introduction to Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, Clinical Psychological Testing, Research Methods, Senior Internship and a course tailored to his or her specialty. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. To apply, send a letter of application and a vita with the names of at least three references and their contact information to: Mr. Donald Taylor, Director of Human Resources, 2300 Highland Road, Batesville, AR 72501 or electronically to jobs@lyon.edu with "Assistant Professor of Psychology" in the subject line. Lyon College is a private, selective liberal arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). It is located in Batesville, Arkansas, a safe and historic town of 10,000 that serves as commercial, medical, social, and governmental hub for an eight-county area. The College currently enrolls almost 700 undergraduate students from 25 states and 11 foreign countries. Entering freshmen have an average high school GPA of 3.5 and an average ACT composite of 24. Lyon College is an equal opportunity employer.
