

Lawrence S. Feldman is an educator holding a BA in elementary education, and masters in special education from the University of Florida and a PhD in Educational Leadership/Systemic Reform from The Union Institute and University of Cincinnati. Larry currently serves as an elected member of the Miami-Dade Public School Board from District 9, a district that includes Zoo Miami, and is the Board's vice chair. He was instrumental in the development of BioTech High School, and its partnership with Zoo Miami. He is a former director of the Zoological Society of Florida / Zoo Miami Foundation where he chaired the Conservation Committee. He is an executive board member of the Council of Great City Schools, past president of the Greater Florida Consortium of School Boards, and a board member of Drug Free Youth in Town, the Education Fund, Florida School Board Association, FBI Miami Citizens' Academy Alumni Association, and the Children's Survival Network. Larry has been honored with the South Dade Community Leadership Award, Jose Marti Community Service Award, Mexican American Council Community Award, and the South Florida After-School All-Stars Award. He is a national and state keynote speaker, presenter and facilitator for professional associations and organizational conferences.