True

I want to move to the next level of leadership and/or a big stretch is being asked or required of me.

I am ready to create and clarify a compelling vision for my life and ministry.

I have goals, skills, or projects I want to achieve and I desire to accelerate results in my life and ministry.

I am willing to discover and change fears and beliefs that hold me back. I am willing to eliminate or modify the self-defeating behaviors that limit my success.

I am ready and willing to do the work necessary to obtain my goals, to make changes to have the life I want, and I will allow my coach to guide me in that process.

I will honestly commit to the time needed for appointments and can be relied upon to be on time and ready without distractions during the sessions.

I'm looking forward to trying new things my coach may suggest—even though at first I may be uncomfortable. I realize this is how I will make changes and continue to grow with the full support of my coach.

I am fully willing to do the work required, to do homework between my coaching calls, and I understand that the success of coaching is up to me. And I agree to this.

I will be open and speak truthfully to my coach at all times.

I realize coaching is an investment in my future, and I am fully committed to give it the time, energy and attention required to achieve my goals.
