

Gifts of Retirement Plans

Victims of intimate partner violence lose a total of 8.0 million days of paid work each year.

You may name the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence as a beneficiary of your IRA or other qualified retirement benefits. A tax advisor can provide you information regarding the tax benefits of such gifts.

Naming NCADV as the beneficiary of a qualified retirement plan asset such as a 401(k), 403(b), IRA, Keogh or profit-sharing pension plan supports our mission while realizing significant tax savings. Naming NCADV as a beneficiary of a retirement plan also allows the donor to maintain complete control over the asset while living, but at the donor's death the plan passes to support NCADV free of both estate and income taxes for the heirs.

Gifting your retirement plan is easy and should not cost you any attorney fees. Simply request a change of beneficiary form from your plan administrator. When you are done, please return the form to your plan administrator and notify NCADV. We can also assist you with the proper language for your beneficiary designation to NCADV.

If you would like to speak to someone directly about leaving a gift of a retirement plan to the National Coalition Against Domestic Violence please contact Dina Coates Koebler at 303-839-1852 #108 or email dcoates@ncadv.org. Thank you!
