

The 5Ps of college admission

The “Five Ps” are widely recognized as the key elements of importance in the college admission process. They will serve as touchstones for admission and scholarship decision-makers. It is imperative that you clearly understand these criteria upon which you will be evaluated.

